

Table of Contents

	pag.
Abbreviations	IX
Editorial	XIII

Part I

ENFORCEMENT OF LABOUR LAW UNDER THE NEW ORGANISATIONAL SETTINGS OF THE COMPANY

Principles of Non-Discrimination in Complex Economic Organisations Silvia Borelli	3
Serving in the Master's House: Legal Protection for In-Home Care Workers in the United States Richard Michael Fischl	21
Network Forms of Organisation and Network Agreements in a Labour Law Perspective: Two Tuscan Case Studies Orsola Razzolini	67

Part II

ENTERPRISES AND WORKERS IN THE TRANSNATIONAL DIMENSION

Hard and Soft Law Instruments for Regulating Multinational Enter- prises: an Uphill Struggle towards Global Responsibility? Vania Brino	85
--	----

	pag.
FTAs that Also Protect Workers: Expanding the Reach of Social Dimension Provisions on Labor to Promote, Compel, and Implement ILO Core Labor Standards
Ronald C. Brown	109
Will the Posted Workers Enforcement Directive 2014/67/EU Really Boost Protection for Posted Workers?
Valentina Cagnin	143
Cross-Border Transfers of Undertakings in the Context of Directive 2001/23
Lukasz Pisarczyk	155
Trans-National Restructuring Processes: the Role of Collective Bargaining Beyond Information and Consultation
Carla Spinelli	175
Defensive Agreements and Opening Clauses: Integrated Strategies of Worker Involvement and Collective Bargaining against Fragmentation and Downgrading
Volker Telljohann	189

Part III

EMPLOYEE RIGHTS AND REPRESENTATION IN SMALL AND MEDIUM ENTERPRISES

How EU Employment Rights are Experienced in Different-Sized Enterprises and Why It Matters
Paul Copeland, Beryl ter Haar	205
Decentralisation and the Fragmentation of Collective Bargaining: Recent Trends in Spain and Italy and Implications for Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises
Francisco José Barba Ramos, Roberta Nunin	227

Table of Contents

VII

pag.

The Extension of Collective Agreements by State Intervention: the Portuguese Regime and the Protection It May Offer to SMEs

Ana Teresa Ribeiro

249

Notes on Contributors

267